Excellent		Excellent		Good		Yes	With respect to my internship, I wish I would have been given a schedule that had concrete work assignments I would be working on when I arrived to my host company. Although I knew of the challenges they needed assistance with, I felt like we were deciding what I would be doing everyday once I had arrived instead of having it prepared beforehand.

I enjoyed the excursions and the community service component.	The food, but I think that has to do with my particular tastes.	Yes	I would say that it is a great opportunity to learn about a different culture and build your network. Its also very eye-opening as you learn about how business is very differently conducted in China than in the U.S. It gives you the opportunity to experience this first-hand and I think that is very valuable.	Yes	I would have liked to have visited a temple and have another network opportunity.	Participating in MBADiversity's GIM program provided an invaluable experience for me. It gave me the opportunity to learn about a different culture and experience first-hand the impact it has on business. If you are looking to grow and broaden your horizons, personally and professionally, I definitely would recommend participating in the GIM program. You won't regret it!
I enjoyed my internship, getting to know the other fellows through the various activities we participated in, the Community Service project, and going to the World Expo the most about the trip.	I felt that we had a lot of activities packed into our daily schedule but it was understandable due to the short period of time for the trip.	Yes	A great learning experience in an international setting for anyone interested in pursuing an MBA or other management degree.	No		The GIM program was a great learning experience in an international setting, which enabled me to learn about new business development, utilize my cross-cultural skills, and network with a group of like-minded individuals interested in pursuing an MBA.
community service project	the heat	Yes	Yes	GIM can improve how the internship is marketed to pre-MBA candidates. The brochure needs to be updated and highlight all of the activities we participate in so future participants can understand the breadth of the experience. My suggestion is to add a video on the website sharing past candidates experiences or a slideshow with pictures from our activities. The week-long agenda should be available as well to give more concrete idea of what the week looks like. There should be a facebook group or ning site for the team of interns before joining on board. Also, once in Shanghai it would be nice to meet the other NextStep Connection interns to gather insight on their experiences since most likely they've been there longer.	The 10 days I spent in Shanghai provided me with a once in a lifetime experience which included professional, social and cultural activities. I was able to grow as a professional and become more culturally aware of business outside of the US. From making quick friendships with my peers to networking with Shanghainese business executives, I am confident that this experience has prepared me for pursuing an MBA focusing on International Business.
Great dinner guests provided by NextStep! Volunteering with the kids on Saturday was another highlight!	very short assignment	Yes	Yes		I truly enjoyed my Shanghai GIM 2010 experience from a professional, cultural, and social perspective. I learned so much within 10 days of being completely immersed in the culture and my assignment.
Making lasting friendships with my fellow interns, the volunteer event at the migrant school and the internship.	N/A	Yes	An invaluable opportunity to meet students that share similar backgrounds, goals and ambitions while having an incredible experience volunteering with local kids and challenging yourself in a global internship that provides a solid foundation to build your knowledge of business in China.	Yes	I would strongly encourage that GIM/Next Step continue with the BEAN volunteer event at the migrant school.	This trip provided me with an invaluable opportunity to meet students that share similar backgrounds, goals and ambitions while having an incredible experience volunteering with local kids and challenging yourself in a global internship that provides a solid foundation to build your knowledge of business in China.
I would have to say that my favorite part was getting to live a week in China as if I lived there. Taking the Metro to and from work, and having great people to share the experience with.	Can not really pin point anything, I really enjoyed it all!	Yes	I would describe the GIM Fellowship as a great experience that put you deep in the Chinese culture and lets you experience life as it is lived in Shanghai.	No		The GIM Fellowship allowed me to visit Shanghai China, in a way I could have never imagined. It was a great feeling going to work everyday and feeling like you belonged in this foreign country. The people and this organization were amazing to work with. I can not put in words how much I enjoyed this trip as an educational, professional and self rewarding experience.	Thanks for everything to every one that put this together for us!!! Especially SOYIN!!!!
